

C15th Conference provisional programme

Thursday:

12pm – 1.30pm Registration & coffee

1.30pm Welcome from Prof. Adrian Bell (Reading)

1.45pm Plenary – Chris Briggs (Cambridge), Economy and society in the fifteenth century: the evidence of felons' chattels

2.45pm Comfort break

3.00pm Parallel sessions:
Christine Reinle (Justus-Liebig-Universität Gießen), Thinking about security in the late middle ages, especially in the Fifteenth Century
Deborah Youngs (Swansea), 'She hath no remedy by course of commyn law': legal options and objectives in early Tudor Star Chamber

Or

Helen Killick (Reading), The Scribes of Petitions in Late Medieval England
Jane Clayton (Surrey), Writing 'in extremis': the Literacy of the Paston Women

4.15pm Tea

4.45pm Parallel sessions:
Andrea Hugill (St Paul's University, Ottawa), Fifteenth Century Theologies of the Temple
Jennifer Weeks (Royal Holloway), Collegiate Communities: youthful experiences in the late medieval colleges of Oxford
Des Atkinson (Exeter), Patronage and the aspiring prelate – a new analysis

Or

David Grummitt (Christchurch, Canterbury), 'Stond Hore Son and Yeld Thy Knyff': urban politics, language and litigation in late medieval Canterbury
Joe Chick (Warwick), Industry and Independence: Reading's Transformation of 1470-1510
John Hare, The small towns of southern England in the Fifteenth Century: some influences

6.30pm Poster session and drinks reception

7.30pm Dinner (BBQ on the 'terrace')

Friday

8.45am-9.15am Registration and coffee

9.15am Parallel sessions:
Samuel Lane (Oxford), Propaganda, Piety, and Politics in the Fifteenth Century: Henry V's Vernacular War Letters to the City of London, 1417-1422
Emma Levitt (Huddersfield), Tournaments and turbulence in the reign of Edward IV, the first Yorkist King of England

Or

Robert Blackmore (Southampton), 'Civitas Burdegale est Regni Francie': Political Economy, Commerce and Conspiracy at the end of the Hundred Years' War, c. 1430-1453
Francis Mickus (Sorbonne), In the French Style: Thomas Hoccleve's use of French Strategies in Poetry

10.30am Tea

11.00am Plenary – Elizabeth New (Aberystwyth), Beyond the Page. The significance of visual and material sources for late medieval history

12pm Lunch

1pm Plenary – Chris Given-Wilson (St Andrews), TBA

2.15pm Trip to Reading Abbey/Museum

6.30pm Drinks reception in Reading Museum

7.30pm for 8 Dinner at the Town Hall

Saturday

8.45am-9.15am Registration and coffee

9.15am Parallel sessions
Hannah Robb (Manchester), Regulating Markets: Credit and Credit Networks
Tony Moore (Reading), 'We may (not) creauce while we have a name'

Or

Beatrice Widell (Reading), Belief and Ritual in Fifteenth Century English Conflict Landscapes

Quentin Verreycken (Université catholique de Louvain/Université Saint-Louis, Bruxelles), The Limits of Friendship and Companionship in the Late Medieval French and Burgundian Armies

Or

Research impact drop in surgery/fireside chat – Jessica Lutkin (Reading)

10.30am Comfort break

10.45am Parallel sessions:
Jonathan Hughes (Exeter), The Good Duke of Gloucester and a Fifteenth Century English Renaissance
Daniel Oliver (Glasgow), Richard III and Tomb of Henry VI

Or

Ashley James Hannay (Cambridge), Principled or Pragmatic: The Legal Reforms of Richard III
Ted Powell, The Origins and Development of the Body Corporate in Late Medieval England

12pm Plenary – Anne Curry (Southampton), Don't mention the war?' Henry VI, Sir John Fastolf and Frexit

1pm Lunch